CONTENTS

Preface and Acknowledgements vii

Introduction. Religion Aestheticised, Art Spiritualised  Hetty Zock ix

Contributors xxiii

I. Aesthetics and Ethics – Essays From Art Studies

‘The Dissolution of the Sphere of the Common’. Literature, Ethics and J.M. Coetzee  Liesbeth Korthals Altes 1

Religious and Aesthetic Experiences. A Psychological Approach  Hans Alma 23

Allegory in Modern Dystopia. On Saramago’s Novel Blindness  Els Jongeneel 39

The Master and the Sofa. Psychoanalysis and Mythology in Wagner’s Operas  Herman Westerink 55

II. The Blurring of Genres – Popular Culture and Religion

Religious Experience and Popular Culture. Towards a New Frame of Enquiry  Gordon Lynch 71

‘Our Father Who Art in Cinema’. A Psychoanalytic Reflection on the Persistence of Religious Narrative about Male Maternity in Contemporary Film  Naomi Goldenberg 85

III. Engaging the Other - Theological and Philosophical Reflections

In Search of Playful Seriousness. Complications in the Relationship Between Art and Religion
   Johan Goud 117

Imagine Faith. On Religion and Imagination
   Desiree Berendsen 135

Beauty as a Theological Concept. A Critical Examination of the Aesthetics of Hans Urs von Balthasar and Gerardus van der Leeuw
   Wessel Stoker 153

Late Modern Rhythm and the Renewal of Worship
   Marcel Barnard 173

Bibliography 189

Index 203