CONTENTS

Preface ................................................................................................................. IX
   Christopher P. Dickenson

Introduction ........................................................................................................... XI-XXI
   Christopher P. Dickenson and Onno M. van Nijf

CHAPTER ONE. Public space beyond the city. The sanctuaries of Labraunda and Sinuri in the chora of Mylasa ....................... 1-36
   Christina Williamson

CHAPTER TWO. Kings, cities and marketplaces – negotiating power through public space in the Hellenistic world ............ 37-75
   Christopher P. Dickenson

CHAPTER THREE. New observations on the planning of fora in the Latin colonies during the mid-Republic ............... 76-112
   Jamie Sewell

CHAPTER FOUR. Agoras in Asia Minor. Public space and Romanization in Augustan times............................................. 113-147
   Ulf Kenzler

CHAPTER FIVE. Expressing public identities in urban spaces:
   the case of Aphrodisias in Caria ............................................. 148-172
   Rubina Raja

CHAPTER SIX. Cities, buildings and benefactors in the Roman East.............................................................................. 173-192
   Arjan Zuiderhoek

CHAPTER SEVEN. The influence of Trajan’s innovative building programme on the urban landscape of Rome ...................... 193-224
   Pamela Doms