CONTENTS

Preface and Acknowledgements vii

Introduction. The Inter-, Trans- and Postnationality of the Historical Avant-Garde

Hubert F. van den Berg and Lidia Głuchowska ix

Contributors xxi

Two Phases of European ‘Internationalism’

Timothy O. Benson 1

Expressionism, Constructivism and the Transnationality of the Historical Avant-Garde

Hubert F. van den Berg 23

Facing Your Friend as Enemy. Nationalism and Internationalism in Avant-Garde Circles around the Great War

Geert Buelens 43

Transition and Internationalism as Praxis

Celia Aijmer Rydsjö and AnnKatrin Jonsson 61

International Nationalism. Reflections on the Emergence of (Icelandic) Anti-Avant-Gardism

Benedikt Hjartarson 75

‘Order and Regularity and Solidarity in All Things’. Internationalist Aesthetics and Politics of the Danish Avant-Garde(s) Around 1920

Torben Jelsbak 99

‘International Architecture’. Contacts and Collaborative Efforts of the Architectural Avant-Garde Between the World Wars

Beate Störtkuhl 117

The Canon of Cubism and the Case of Vincenc Kramář. On the Place of Czech Cubism in the History of Modern Art

Vojtěch Lahoda 131
Internationalists Stretched Thin. The Hungarian Aspect (1920-1922)
Éva Forgács
145

Internationality and Greek Modernism. On the Particularities of the Greek Avant-Garde
Dimitrios Kargiotis
165

The ‘New World’ of the Avant-Garde and the ‘New States’ in Central Europe. Perspectives of a Postnational and Postcolonial New Art History. Postface
Lidia Głuchowska
183

Bibliography
213

Index
247