TABLE OF CONTENTS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Topic</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Table of Contents</td>
<td>v</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Acknowledgements</td>
<td>xi</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Introduction</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>THE PHOENICIAN EXPANSION</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Phoenician expansion: problems and state of research</td>
<td>xiii</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Exchange in the Mediterranean and the Atlantic</td>
<td>xv</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The semantics of terminology: ‘Phoenician’ vs ‘Levantine’ and ‘colonial’ vs ‘indigenous’</td>
<td>xvii</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Classification of western Phoenician ceramics.</td>
<td>xix</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CHAPTER 1</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>THE HISTORICAL AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL CONTEXTS</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The historical and archaeological contexts</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The historical context: Phoenicia and Phoenicians in the Early Iron Age</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The archaeological context: the Phoenician expansion in the central and western Mediterranean</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Phoenician ‘ethnicity’ and material culture in the Mediterranean</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chronology</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CHAPTER 2</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CULTURAL CONTACTS AND TRADE IN COLONIAL SETTINGS: THEORETICAL APPROACHES AND THE PHOENICIAN EXPANSION</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>On colonisation, colonialism, ‘middle grounds’ and terrae nullius</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Colonisation vs colonialism: the rhetorics of a post-colonial archaeology</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A terminological dead-end?</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ancient economy, trading posts and Phoenician trade</td>
<td>11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ancient trade and trading posts</td>
<td>11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Structures of the Phoenician economy</td>
<td>13</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
TABLE OF CONTENTS

CHAPTER 3

EARLY EXCHANGES IN THE WESTERN MEDITERRANEAN: ON PRE-COLONIAL TRADE, GIFTS AND THEIR PERPETRATORS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Introduction.</td>
<td>15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pre-colonial exchanges in the western Mediterranean: on trade, gifts and their perpetrators</td>
<td>15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Motives for the expansion, early contacts and the issue of aristocratic exchange</td>
<td>15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Exchanges in the central Mediterranean: Sardinia and the connections between East and West</td>
<td>19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>East-West early contacts: from the pre-colonial period to enoikismoi</td>
<td>26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greek pottery in the western Mediterranean and its carriers in the 'pre-colonial' period</td>
<td>37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Early exchanges: the question of an 'elite gift-exchanging koine', travelling artisans and indigenous markets.</td>
<td>41</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

CHAPTER 4

THE COLONIAL FRONTIERS IN IBERIA. FROM SETTLEMENT PATTERNS TO SOCIAL ORGANISATION

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Introduction.</td>
<td>49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Settlement patterns in Iberia</td>
<td>51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pre-Phoenician and contact-time territorial organisation</td>
<td>51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Phoenician or Tartessian? Modern artificial lines in settlement patterns</td>
<td>53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The topography of the Phoenician towns, trading posts and sanctuaries in Iberia</td>
<td>56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Settlements, trading posts and sanctuaries in Iberia: culture and society</td>
<td>59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The emergence of urbanism? Settlement types, urban-layout and architecture</td>
<td>59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sanctuaries and cults in Iberia.</td>
<td>66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Language and cultural identity</td>
<td>68</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Burial customs and society</td>
<td>70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Phoenician society in Iberia: social organisation, culture change and culture continuity</td>
<td>77</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

CHAPTER 5

THE COLONIAL FRONTIERS IN NORTH-WEST AFRICA: FROM SETTLEMENT PATTERNS TO SOCIAL ORGANISATION

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Introduction.</td>
<td>83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Settlement patterns and topography in north-west Africa.</td>
<td>85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Settlements and trading posts: spatial organisation, material culture and cultural identity</td>
<td>87</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Burial customs and culture .................................................. 91
Phoenician society in north-west Iberia: social organisation, culture change and culture continuity .................................................. 94

CHAPTER 6

COMMERCIAL EXCHANGES. TRADE PATTERNS AND INTERACTION MECHANISMS IN IBERIA AND NORTH-WEST AFRICA

Introduction ................................................................. 97
The use of agricultural land and trade in agricultural products ............... 98
The issue of agriculture ..................................................... 98 evidence for exploitation of agricultural land and trade in agricultural products .................................................. 99
The question of timber exploitation ........................................ 101
Pastoralism and the exploitation of marine resources .......................... 101
Animal husbandry .......................................................... 101
The exploitation of marine resources ...................................... 102
The evidence for Phoenician involvement in the production and distribution of metals in Iberia .................................................. 103 documentation, questions and problems .................................... 103
Geological formation and mining exploitation techniques ..................... 104 evidence for metalworking at Phoenician settlements ........................ 105
The procurement and processing of ores .................................... 106
Shipwrecks ................................................................. 108
The evidence for Phoenician involvement in the production and distribution of metals in north-west Africa ........................................ 109
Organisation of production and trade: colonial and market economies .... 110
South Spain and the trade in manufactured products .......................... 113
Imports, copies and local developments ..................................... 113
A Phoenician trade in luxury products or local artisans? ....................... 115
Trade in the frontiers of Phoenician settlement in Iberia: central/north-east Spain .................................................. 116
The Valencian and Catalonian region: imports at indigenous sites .......... 116
Trade patterns in the Valencian and Catalonian regions ........................ 117
Trade in Atlantic Iberia ...................................................... 118
Andalusian imports in Atlantic Iberia ....................................... 118
Trade in Atlantic Iberia: aims and organisation ................................ 120
Trade in north-west Africa: Morocco and Algeria ............................. 120
Phoenician settlements and traded commodities ................................ 120
Exchanges in north-west Africa: Cerne island, exotic goods and Mogador 121
Trade with the Greek world in the late 8th and the 7th c. in Iberia and north-west Africa .................................................. 122
The question of Greek trade ................................................ 122
Greek pottery in Iberia, ca. 750–600 BC .................................... 123
Greek pottery in north-west Africa .......................................... 128
TABLE OF CONTENTS

The evidence in the central Mediterranean ............................................. 129
Greek toponyms and trade routes .......................................................... 130
Interaction mechanisms: modes and mechanism of commercial exchanges .... 132
  The articulation of power ................................................................. 132
  Coercion: military operations and asymmetrical exchanges .................... 132
  An ‘agricultural’ revolution? ............................................................. 135
  Commercial networks and the articulation of power .............................. 135
  An ‘organic’ expansion and the specifics of power articulation: a working hypothesis ................................................................. 136

CHAPTER 7
PHOENICIAN SOCIETY IN CENTRAL NORTH AFRICA:
FROM SETTLEMENT PATTERNS TO SOCIAL ORGANISATION

Introduction ......................................................................................... 139
Settlement patterns and territorial organisation in central north Africa .......... 140
Topography, urban layout and material culture ........................................... 143
Burial grounds and society ..................................................................... 145
  The Carthaginian necropoleis: the ‘egalitarian’ outlook of society in the 8th c., the shift of the 7th BC and the question of Egyptian cults ..................... 145
  The sanctuary of Tanit at Salammbo: a contextual reconstruction and the debate on chronology ................................................................. 149
  The necropoleis of Utica: cultural origin and social hierarchies .............. 151
  The tophet at Hadrumentum: chronology and cult ................................. 152
  The tophet and the issue of ritual infanticide ........................................... 153
Phoenician society in Carthage, Utica and Hadrumentum: social organisation and social change ..................................................................................... 157
  The foundation of Carthage and the formation of the early population .......... 157
  Social implications of the tophet: an early ‘civic’ institution? ................. 161
  Population synthesis and relations with the indigenous communities: Utica, Hadrumentum and Lepcis ................................................................. 163

CHAPTER 8
COMMERCIAL EXCHANGES, TRADE PATTERNS AND INTERACTION MECHANISMS IN CENTRAL NORTH AFRICA

Introduction ......................................................................................... 165
The exploitation of natural resources and the artisanal production ............... 165
  Agriculture ....................................................................................... 165
  Animal husbandry and the exploitation of marine resources ................... 166
  Other natural resources ...................................................................... 167
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Craft production .................................................. 168
Trade ................................................................. 169
   Carthaginian maritime trade ................................ 169
   Utica and maritime trade ..................................... 173
   Maritime trade and the foundation of Lepcis .......... 173
Phoenicians in central north Africa: trading circuits and a heterogeneous process of expansion ......................... 173

CHAPTER 9

COMMERCIAL EXCHANGES AND EVOLVING SOCIETIES:
INTEGRATION PATTERNS MERCHANTS, GUILDS AND FOREIGN LANDS:
The Origins of the Phoenician Expansion Revisited

Agents and structure of commerce: guilds, the temple and metropolitan Tyre . . 180
   Structures of commerce ..................................... 180
   Agents of commerce ......................................... 183
Frontiers of expansion and cultural contacts: between permanent settlements and ephemeral outposts .................................................. 185
   Only commerce? The other factors behind the Phoenician expansion ........ 185
   Inter- and intra-Phoenician identities: Phoenicians and others ............ 186

CONCLUSIONS .................................................................. 189

APPENDIX ..................................................................... 193
Sardinia ........................................................................ 193
   Sant’ Imbenia ..................................................... 193
Spain .......................................................................... 194
   Huelva .................................................................. 194
   Cádiz/Gadir ......................................................... 195
   Castillo de Doña Blanca ....................................... 196
   Las Cumbres ......................................................... 196
   Cerro del Prado .................................................... 197
   Cerro del Villar ..................................................... 198
   Toscanos ............................................................ 199
   Cerro del Mar ........................................................ 200
   Morro de Mezquitilla ............................................ 200
   Trayamar ............................................................. 201
   Chorreras ............................................................. 203
   Lagos ................................................................. 203
   Almuñécar ........................................................... 204
   Cerro de San Cristóbal (Laurita) .......................... 204
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Puente de Noy ................................................................. 205
Adra/Abdera ................................................................. 206
La Fonteta ................................................................. 206
Sa Caleta ................................................................. 208
Puig de Mollins ........................................................... 208
Ceuta ................................................................. 209
Puerto de Noy ................................................................. 205
Adra/Abdera ................................................................. 206
La Fonteta ................................................................. 206
Sa Caleta ................................................................. 208
Puig de Mollins ........................................................... 208
Ceuta ................................................................. 209
Portugal ................................................................. 211
Castro Marim ................................................................. 211
Tavira ................................................................. 211
Alcácer do Sal: el Castillo .................................................. 213
Alcácer do Sal: the necropolis of Olival do Senhor dos Mártires . ... 214
Abul ................................................................. 214
Lisbon ................................................................. 215
Quinta do Almaraz ........................................................... 216
Alcáçova de Santarém ......................................................... 217
Santa Olaia ................................................................. 218
Morocco ................................................................. 219
Lixus ................................................................. 219
Kach Kouch ................................................................. 220
Sala ................................................................. 221
Mogador ................................................................. 221
Tangier Peninsula: necropoleis ............................................... 222
Algeria ................................................................. 224
Rachgoun ................................................................. 224
Tunisia ................................................................. 225
Utica ................................................................. 225
Carthage ................................................................. 226
Hadrumetum ................................................................. 228
Libya ................................................................. 229
Lepecis ................................................................. 229
Tables ................................................................. 231
Figures ................................................................. 237
Bibliography ................................................................. 317